

A good chance to get a good dinner and do something for Albuquerque awaits you at the Commercial Club tonight

YOU are the man you ought to take to the Commercial club dinner.

The Evening Herald

ONE more selection on the Bryan harmonica will be about enough.

THIRTEEN-CITIZEN.
Vol. 26, No. 36.

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1915.

THE EVENING HERALD
Vol. 5, No. 194.

BRITISH WARSHIP VIOLATES MEXICAN NEUTRALITY

300 DROWNED WHEN ANCONA IS TORPEDOED BY SUBMARINE

First Reports Give Too Great a Number of Survivors Landed at Bizerta; 229 Reported as Reaching Safety.

FAMOUS BARITONE IS REPUTED A PASSENGER

Concern Felt for Three Steamers Which Are Nearing Region Where Liner Was Sent to the Bottom.

(By Evening Herald Special Wire)
London, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—A dispatch from Bizerta today reported that 229 persons on the Ancona, torpedoed last night in the Adriatic, have been rescued and are being treated in the hospital.

The first reports from Bizerta last night said 218 survivors had been landed at Bizerta, instead of 229, as given out from London today. Although in neither case is the figure of the dispatch from Bizerta correct, it is probable that the number of survivors is somewhere between 200 and 250.

FIFTY-FOUR MEMBERS OF CREW REACH TEXAS
Cape Bon, Texas, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—Fifty-four members of the crew and passengers of the Ancona, picked up at sea, have been landed here.

NEW YORK AGENTS WITHOUT INFORMATION
New York, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—No word concerning the sinking of the Ancona has been received here today by the American agents of the Ancona, who are waiting for the British liner, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

DENIES BRITISH WORKMEN HAVE DELAYED ANY MUNITIONS

Picturization of English Labor as Creature of Liquor and Laziness Decried by Trades Union Representative.

BRITON AT A. F. L. CALLS THE MEN 'SCAPEGOATS'

Workers Made to Bear Burden of Diplomatic and Political Mistakes, Avers C. G. Ammon at San Francisco.

(By Evening Herald Special Wire)
San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—British laboring men were declared today to have been made scapegoats for diplomatic and political mistakes, and to have been made scapegoats for diplomatic and political mistakes.

The first reports from Bizerta last night said 218 survivors had been landed at Bizerta, instead of 229, as given out from London today. Although in neither case is the figure of the dispatch from Bizerta correct, it is probable that the number of survivors is somewhere between 200 and 250.

FIFTY-FOUR MEMBERS OF CREW REACH TEXAS
Cape Bon, Texas, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—Fifty-four members of the crew and passengers of the Ancona, picked up at sea, have been landed here.

NEW YORK AGENTS WITHOUT INFORMATION
New York, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—No word concerning the sinking of the Ancona has been received here today by the American agents of the Ancona, who are waiting for the British liner, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

Chinese Admiral Assassinated at Festival

Tseng Yu Cheng Shot Down, With Secretary, by Men Who Jump Aboard His Automobile and Empty Pistols.

U. S. EMPLOYE IS UNACCEPTABLE TO GERMANY

M. Delavel, a Belgian, Is Persona Non Grata and Will Not Return to Post in Legation at Brussels.

(By Evening Herald Special Wire)
Washington, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—M. Delavel, a Belgian, is persona non grata in Germany, and will not return to his post in the legation at Brussels.

The first reports from Bizerta last night said 218 survivors had been landed at Bizerta, instead of 229, as given out from London today. Although in neither case is the figure of the dispatch from Bizerta correct, it is probable that the number of survivors is somewhere between 200 and 250.

FIFTY-FOUR MEMBERS OF CREW REACH TEXAS
Cape Bon, Texas, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—Fifty-four members of the crew and passengers of the Ancona, picked up at sea, have been landed here.

NEW YORK AGENTS WITHOUT INFORMATION
New York, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—No word concerning the sinking of the Ancona has been received here today by the American agents of the Ancona, who are waiting for the British liner, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

MIKADO TO WORK FOR FRIENDSHIP OF WORLD, HE ASSERTS

Favorable Omen Marks Consecration of New Emperor in Japan, Sun Appearing as He Kneels at Altar.

IMPERIAL RESCRIPT FIRST CROWNED ACT

Co-operation Urged Upon All and Due Attention to Respective Duties Recommended to Every Subject.

(By Evening Herald Special Wire)
Kobe, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—In Kobe, the ancient capital of Japan, Yoshihito was consecrated emperor today.

The first reports from Bizerta last night said 218 survivors had been landed at Bizerta, instead of 229, as given out from London today. Although in neither case is the figure of the dispatch from Bizerta correct, it is probable that the number of survivors is somewhere between 200 and 250.

FIFTY-FOUR MEMBERS OF CREW REACH TEXAS
Cape Bon, Texas, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—Fifty-four members of the crew and passengers of the Ancona, picked up at sea, have been landed here.

NEW YORK AGENTS WITHOUT INFORMATION
New York, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—No word concerning the sinking of the Ancona has been received here today by the American agents of the Ancona, who are waiting for the British liner, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

Penrose Argues for a Navy of Dreadnaughts

Pennsylvania Senator Would Have One Ship Named After Each State of Union; Would Pay National Guard.

CHAPTER ADDED TO BRYAN-WILSON CONTROVERSY

Ex-secretary of State Adds a Few Lines to His Comment Upon President's Actions for National Defense.

(By Evening Herald Special Wire)
Washington, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—Former Secretary of State Bryan today added a chapter to his controversy with President Wilson over the question of national defense by issuing a formal statement in which he said that the president's recent action in calling for a national guard was a mistake.

The first reports from Bizerta last night said 218 survivors had been landed at Bizerta, instead of 229, as given out from London today. Although in neither case is the figure of the dispatch from Bizerta correct, it is probable that the number of survivors is somewhere between 200 and 250.

FIFTY-FOUR MEMBERS OF CREW REACH TEXAS
Cape Bon, Texas, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—Fifty-four members of the crew and passengers of the Ancona, picked up at sea, have been landed here.

NEW YORK AGENTS WITHOUT INFORMATION
New York, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—No word concerning the sinking of the Ancona has been received here today by the American agents of the Ancona, who are waiting for the British liner, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

AMERICAN STEAMER IS GIVEN FORCIBLE SEARCH IN PORT OF PROGRESO

Zealandia, Figuring Much of Late in Reports of British Officers Seeking Evidence of Supposed Plans for Preying Upon Oil Steamers Carrying Fuel to Britain, Subjected to Unusual Indignity While in Non-belligerent Waters.

CRUISER LIES IN FAIRWAY, PRESUMABLY TO SEIZE VESSEL WHEN SHE BEGINS VOYAGE TO AMERICA

Issue Expected to Develop Into One of Most Serious in Controversy Between This Country and Great Britain, if Facts Are Found as Stated; Report of Consul Remains Incomplete; Thorough Investigation to Be Made; Officials Silent

(By Evening Herald Special Wire)
Washington, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—The American steamer Zealandia was forcibly searched by a party from a British cruiser last week while lying in the port of Progreso, Mexico. The American consul there reports the cruiser now is lying outside, presumably waiting to seize the ship.

The first reports from Bizerta last night said 218 survivors had been landed at Bizerta, instead of 229, as given out from London today. Although in neither case is the figure of the dispatch from Bizerta correct, it is probable that the number of survivors is somewhere between 200 and 250.

FIFTY-FOUR MEMBERS OF CREW REACH TEXAS
Cape Bon, Texas, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—Fifty-four members of the crew and passengers of the Ancona, picked up at sea, have been landed here.

NEW YORK AGENTS WITHOUT INFORMATION
New York, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—No word concerning the sinking of the Ancona has been received here today by the American agents of the Ancona, who are waiting for the British liner, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

ALLIES GAIN IN NORTH, LOSING IN THE SOUTH

Situation in Serbia One of Compensated Victories and Defeats; Invaders Practically Control Railroad Lines.

JURY SECURED FOR TRIAL OF SCHMIDT

The emperor today issued an imperial rescript in which he declared that he will continue the work of his father, who "consecrated the great path of opening the country to foreign commerce."

(By Evening Herald Special Wire)
Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—The jury for the trial of Matthew A. Schmidt, charged with murder, was secured today in the district court of the Los Angeles times building.

The first reports from Bizerta last night said 218 survivors had been landed at Bizerta, instead of 229, as given out from London today. Although in neither case is the figure of the dispatch from Bizerta correct, it is probable that the number of survivors is somewhere between 200 and 250.

FIFTY-FOUR MEMBERS OF CREW REACH TEXAS
Cape Bon, Texas, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—Fifty-four members of the crew and passengers of the Ancona, picked up at sea, have been landed here.

NEW YORK AGENTS WITHOUT INFORMATION
New York, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—No word concerning the sinking of the Ancona has been received here today by the American agents of the Ancona, who are waiting for the British liner, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

The Ancona, according to the latest reports, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Adriatic, and the survivors were landed at Bizerta. The British liner was carrying 300 persons, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

Western Rates Are Fixed for Time, Is Decided

(By Evening Herald Special Wire)
Washington, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—The western rates for the month of November have been fixed for the time being, and it was thought in some circles that the Ancona was a British ship.

YEARLING FILLY SETS NEW TROTTER RECORD

(By Evening Herald Special Wire)
Lexington, Ky., Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—A world's record for a yearling filly was set today at a trotting race at the Kentucky Horse-breeding association.

GERMAN CASUALTIES TO DATE TOTAL OVER TWO MILLION MEN

(By Evening Herald Special Wire)
London, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—The German casualties to date in the war are now estimated to be over two million men.

ITALIAN STEAMER IN FLAMES OFF SABINE BAR, IS REPORTED

(By Evening Herald Special Wire)
Genoa, Nov. 10. (11:30 p. m.)—The Italian steamer Livetta, of 1,700 tons, was reported to have been set on fire by a German submarine off the coast of Sabine.